

City gears up for start of Central Park Concert Series

By Cindy Aguirre-Herrera

(Seguin) - The sounds of summer return to downtown Seguin this Sunday. The Central Park Concert Series gets underway with its first performance. The concert series is held each Sunday evening throughout the month of June and is hosted by the Seguin Main Street Association.

Main Street Director Mary Jo Filip says leading off this year's entertainment will be the music of the Kirk Herbold Band.

"Kirk's venue is more country (and) Americana. He's kind of filling in that venue for us as part of our four free concerts," said Filip. "I think the concerts that have been held every Sunday evening in June and have been held for many many years are very popular with the public, and I would just encourage everyone to come out and enjoy them."

The remaining schedule will include The Nash Hernandez Orchestra on June 12 followed by The Lone Star Bluegrass Band on June 19 and The Shelley King Band on June 26.

The concert is held each Sunday from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The concerts are free and open to the public. They are provided thanks to donations from local businesses and corporations. Beverages, hot dogs and hamburgers will be made available during the concert by Boy Scout Troop 107. Residents are encouraged to bring their lawn chairs and blankets.
