GRMC's Haynes Selected as Holiday Stroll Parade Grand Marshal Guadalupe Regional Medical Center CEO Robert Haynes to Lead Parade

SEGUIN, Texas – Mayor Don Keil is happy to announce the selection of Guadalupe Regional Medical Center CEO Robert Haynes as grand marshal of the 2014 Holiday Stroll Parade.

“Robert has overseen the development of GRMC into a world class medical facility. It is one of the premier assets in our community,” Mayor Keil said. “Robert is not one to seek the limelight and he is often overlooked as one of the key reasons for the success and quality of service at GRMC.”

Robert and his wife, Apryl, will join Mayor Keil and his wife, Marty, in the parade’s lead vehicle.

“Robert and his staff at GRMC are all active in every part of our community,” Keil continued. “Robert also serves as the new president of the Seguin Economic Development Corporation and deserves praise and gratitude from everyone in the Seguin community.”

The annual Holiday Stroll parade begins at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 4. The route will follow Austin Street from College Street to Nolte Street. The lighting of Central Park will immediately follow the parade. Mayor Don Keil will flip the switch, illuminating the city’s holiday centerpiece. Several non-profit organizations will offer food and beverage items from 5:30 until 8:30 p.m.
